Build your house of bricks...
with some help from

- With no proper wireless network security at all, you're definitely in a house of straw
- Add some WEP Key security and your house of sticks might just stand up for 10 minutes or so
- But use Aruba Wi-Fi switching from Online and you will be protected from being blown away by all those big, bad wolves!

Don't just take our word for it. Come along to one of our workshops in October and November and put us to the test. All it will take is a couple of hours of your time for us to clearly demonstrate how you can transform the security of your organisation. And in addition, experts from SpliceCom will be on hand to show you how a secure Aruba wireless network can also enable applications such as IP Telephony to be deployed within your organisation, by demonstrating the award-winning maximiser telephone system. In just two hours we can give you the opportunity to find out for yourself exactly why the Aruba Wi-Fi switching technology is different to anything you will have come across before.
